She put her arm about the boy's shoulders. "You don't know what company Dave is, and it's scarcely dark yet. No, I don't want anybody else. Good-night."

She slipped out, her arm still around the boy, and the two passed down the path that stretched like a thread of silver in the moonlight. The lad talked to her in his strange language and she let him go on without paying much attention to him, for her heart was heavy with a great fear. They reached the creek path where the gray rushes stood and the deep creek slept beneath the moon. The lad laughed and swept his arms about the girl, and a whip-poor-will came, as the shrill whistle of a migrating flock of pin-tails sang out and died away high above them. They turned up the path, and a whip-poor-will would wake up and utter his plaintive call from a nearby copse. Dave imitated the call and then all about the night-birds awoke and made the world alive with sound.

Further on the lad hoisted like a owl and from this awoke the feathered prowlers of the night answered him. He clapped his hands in glee, and Dave's arm tightened about him. "Oh, Dave," she whispered, "are you just like the birds—dark and free. Are you just what God intended you all to be, I wonder? Are you, Dave?" He stroked her hand, and Pepper climbed from his shoulder over to hers.

"Do you know we are going to lose her—do you?" said the girl chokingly. "Yes, you both know."

When they reached the fork in the path Dave put the little animal in the boy's arms. Then she bent and kissed him.

"Dave must run along to Granny, now," she said, "and he can come over to see Boy tomorrow."

Dave put his hands to his lips and gave a low call, then bent his head to listen. From a far-off wailing there came the answering cry of a lynx, and the boy with a happy laugh flung his arms in the air and darted away through the grove. Gloss, standing with the moonlight lavishing her face, sweet to-night with a new pathos, prayed:

"Oh God, who looks after Dave, look after the little man. Don't let her from us, God." Then, leaning her face against the rough bark of a beech tree, she sobbed:

"Mother, let her stay with us a little longer—just a little longer."

CHAPTER XVIII.

Old Betty, Dave lived with an aged grandmother in a small hut close to the edge of one day. She was a very old woman. Her features were rugged and pitting, and she hated everything in the world, except, indeed, it was Dave. And she loved him very little love. It was thought among the Bushwhackers that she sometimes had a soft spot for the child. Nobody knew for certain. The old woman gave little attention to his going or his coming. The death of her daughter and only child had crippled her reason. There was a path worn between the hut and the knoll beneath the walnut. Old Betty's life was linked to an old grave by the path that was kept trodden both winter and summer.

The people feared Betty, and respected her. It was said that she was versed in witchcraft and was in league with the evil one. The Bushwhackers brought her meat and roots and such other necessities as she required, but she never thanked them. Perhaps they were doing it all for the child. In their rough way they pitied the boy; some of them even showed him a sort of animal affection. Old Betty spoke to no one, unless it was to curse them, and she went abroad only when the sun was hidden, to gather the herbs she brewed into nauseous evil-smelling decoctions. Twice, only, in nine years, had she visited the homes of those who were kind to her.

Once Peeler lay yellow and swollen, dying from the bite of a snake. Betty had hobbled into the house, her iron-gray hair hanging about her shoulders, wet with the falling rain. Without so much as a word she had dropped a black liquid from the trapper's set teeth and had gone before. Bill Paisley, or Big McTavish, who were with the dying man, could recover from their surprise. Peeler got well, and the Bushwhackers whispered among themselves in superstitious awe. They laid the miracle to old Betty's witchcraft. One other time a child lay ill with a high fever. Old Betty visited the home of the child and all night long sat beside the little sufferer. The child grew well and strong. "Witchcraft," whispered the Bushwhackers.

If Betty was aware that she was looked upon as being in league with the Evil One, she gave no sign; it bothered her none what she knew. She stayed within the dark confines of her hut, smoked Canada Green tobacco in a clay pipe, and blasphemed to her heart's content.

To Dave Dave she paid not the slightest attention. But often when the child lay sleeping she would bend over him, holding the feeble, rustling close to his face, as if with knotted bow working, as she poured maledictions upon the cause of the suffering into the child's ear. "You had better never quite learned rest. If she thought the power the child exercised over the birds and animals of the wood stream, she gave no evidence of it." She had become inured to having the squirrels and birds tick and flutter about in the open spot before her door, playing fantastic games with the few yellow-haired child, who rolled about in the grass and gibbered to himself.

Once in the dusk, along the path to the grave, old Betty found a ruffed grouse lying drunk and helpless. He had eaten too freely of the purple poke-berry. She picked the bird up and carried him to her hut, and there held him until he slept off his intoxication. He fought frantically to get away until Dave came in and, taking the grouse from her, talked to it in his own way, and it settled on his knee and ate the yellow-draw long curls. From that time the old woman realized that the dark child was also one of the wild things of the wood.

The powdery white-frost lay like a blanket upon the unprotected glades of the wood, and the yellow-draw leaves were being shaken and wafted earthward in the first swaying gust of morning wind, when Boy McTavish emerged from the timber and stood gazing toward the lone hut and peering the dog brown sought. The setter shook himself and looked up into his master's face.

"Joe," said the boy in a whisper, "you say here, 'in' or 'out', with or without. It's got to be done."

The dog squatted among the frost-blacked ferns, and Boy McTavish crossed the open and knocked at the door. It opened quickly, and there came the dog brown, and the gray hair falling down about her shoulders, her black eyes blazing with a fury.

"Betty," said Boy chokingly, "ma's awful sick. We think she won't live till noon. I just thought I'd tell you."

He turned away as the door slammed with a bang, and with a sigh plunged into the hard timber. He walked quickly across two ridges, then, turning, followed a third down the ridge of the creek. There he halted.

"I can't just make up my mind to do anything," Joe," he said, bending and patting the dog's head. "I ought to build a turkey-trap or two, 'cause it's the beech-nut season now, and the turkeys'll be here in a day or two. But it does seem as though I ought to be home with her."

He shouldered his rifle and moved slowly along. Where the ridge met the margin of the creek Boy paused again and glanced about him with narrowed eyes.

"Hah, this is a good place for a trap, Joe," he said. "We'll build one or two anyway. Then we'll get back."

He stood his rifle up against a tree and unhooked his belt. Then he stamped and gazed at the dog blankly.

Well, now, if we didn't forget the ax," he exclaimed, "I could build a turkey-trap without an ax, pup."

"Here, I'll lend you mine, Joe," said a wild goblin hanging from one hand, then his ax down on the moss and grunted.

"Hickory, but I'm some tired. Had quite a job of it, I can tell you. Built four traps since the mornin'. Better get yours all up to-day, Boy, 'cause the turkeys are takin' to the hardwood fast. Set right by the dock this mornin'." Only got one crack, though, 'cause I wanted to get my traps up. Why, what's the matter, Boy, you look sort of used up?"

Boy looked away.

"I can knock the mornin' after the bee, Bill, how when you got back home, we found that ma had been took bad, and you know what we've been kind of expectin' since," he said, catching up. "Well, we think it'll happen right soon."

Paisley dropped his ax and tackled a dead tree with the ax.

"I made my logs about ten feet long," he said; "reckon you'd best make your same long ones."

"Ten by six ought to be about right," answered Boy.

Paisley chopped the tree through and paced off ten feet. He raised his ax, then let it gently down again.

"Boy," he said, "it's a hard thing. How soon?"

"We reckon sometime to-day."

Paisley spit on his hands and returned work.

"I'm going to put up four pens for you, and what you better do is get your traps set. I'll knock your head off now, you strike the back trail and when I get the trap up, I'll be with you. Here, take this turkey."

Boy picked up the turkey, then stood awkwardly, brushing his face with his dressin' sleeve.

"Bill, I'm much obliged."

Paisley snorted.

"I'm going to put your mark on these pens—two narrow notches, an' one wide one, ain't it?"

Boy nodded.

"Well, get along then and don't stand there bothin' me. I'm going to build one up in—but never mind now. I'll come back with you and show you. Get along."

More Sheep in Saskatchewan.

The sheep population of Saskatchewan is slowly but steadily increasing, according to the annual report of the Livestock Commissioner. There is, however, a vast field for increasing the number of sheep raised in this province where natural conditions of climate, water and feed are suited to the production of good mutton and wool. Saskatchewan has less than 150,000 head of sheep, while the small province of Nova Scotia has 261,000 head.

The Control of Natural Resources

Premier Stewart of Alberta Says Much Western Province Should Present Own Case.

"One final appeal to Ottawa should be made by the prairie provinces for the transfer of natural resources. This falls far in back of justice elsewhere," declared Premier Charles Stewart, of Alberta, in discussing at Winnipeg the forthcoming re-opening of negotiations for the transfer of natural resources from Federal to Provincial control.

Premier Stewart thinks each province should present its own case individually at Ottawa. Owing to the varied character of the settlements which would have to be made in respect of subsidy, he thought, separate action would be best.

The premier admitted that in view of the greater length of time under which Manitoba had suffered injustice as compared with Saskatchewan and Alberta, this province had perhaps the strongest claim of all.

About Fox Raising

Interesting Facts Regarding the Rearing of Animals in Captivity.

Some interesting facts regarding fox farming are forthcoming from the Veterinary Director General, Dr. Torrance. In an article in The Agricultural Gazette of Canada for November, he tells us that the main difficulty connected with the raising of foxes in captivity is the protecting of them from disease. It is noticeable that the female instead of giving birth to a litter of four or five at a time, as she does when free, rarely produces more than two, the average for the farms in Prince Edward Island being at the rate of one and a half. Individual fox ranchers, however, by care and improved methods, do succeed in securing an increase of three or even four per pair. With a view to making this success more general, under the direction of Dr. Torrance, research work has been undertaken. Land and equipment have been acquired, two scientific experts from the Health of Animals Branch employed, six pairs of foxes from the Island ranches furnished, and a small laboratory fitted up for the studying of the diseases and parasites that affect the animals.

Value of the School Teacher

Says Every Teacher Produces $20,000 But Gets Less.

Hon. P. C. Paxton, commissioner of education for the United States, in addressing the Ontario School Board, said that the value of the school teacher in the world's progress, emphasized the importance of the school teacher in the world's progress.

"Every school teacher produces $20,000 of wealth annually," he said, and he added: "His remuneration is something less than that."

7,000 Turks Flee to Death.

The Armenians have reclaimed Kars after defeating the Kemal forces, according to the American newspapers. The latter lost severely owing to lack of transport and the wintry weather. One paper says that 7,000 Turks were frozen to death. The new armistice under more favorable conditions was signed on November 18.

Re-Opening of U.S. Industries.

Advice from various parts of the United States, widely scattered, of the re-opening of factories closed during the recent industrial readjustment, are taken in New York business circles as indications of the beginning of gradual improvement in business conditions. In most instances the opening of plants is attended with announcement of lower wage schedules or curtailed working time.

To Confer With President Hanna.

Representatives of the various branches of the employees of the Canadian National Railways who have been discussing the question of fighting against the order issued a short time ago by President D. B. Hanna, prohibiting an employee of the C.N.R. to run for any political office, decided to ask Mr. Hanna for a conference before taking definite action.

Germana Deliver Coal.

Large Salt Deposits

Think Mineral Fields Exist in Port McHenry District.

Drillers operating under the direction of the Alberta Government have definitely established the existence of an extensive field of high grade salt at Port McHenry in Northern Alberta. At a depth of six hundred and fifty feet the well has been sunk through thirty feet of pure salt.

Exploration work was begun at Port McHenry about twelve months ago by the Provincial Government, the well being drilled in the township listed. The results have been the opinion of geologists that an immense field of salt exists in this region. In its drilling operation the government has been unlucky in meeting with mechanical difficulties and at the present time with the drill in the salt to a depth of more than thirty feet work has again been held up with equipment trouble. It is believed that it will be necessary to sink another well to get the full advantage of discovery, but that the strike will justify measures toward development of the salt field.

Mennonites May Leave

Delegation Has Gone to Mexico to Secure Lands and Educational Privileges.

The Mennonites of the Old Colony, near Swift Current, are again on the hunt for a new home where they will not be hampered with any law compelling them to send their children to school. Delegates of this people have in the past visited several of the countries of the world, but have so far found no place where they could escape edification for their children. Now they are to try Mexico, an allegation is already on the way to that country to a hunt for land and educational privileges.

It is understood on good authority that Mennonites have given an option on their land to a Regina firm, and think that this time they will get a better deal than the opinion that anything will go in Mexico.

The Modern Woman

Frenchman Gives His View of the Present-Day Feminist Movement and Activities.

Announcement of his engagement to be married, following hard upon the report of his serious illness, has once more drawn attention to M. Anatole France. It is interesting, therefore, to consider what is his view of modern woman and her feminist ambitions and activities. This is how he gave it in reply to one of those who broached the subject: "If I were you," he wrote, "I should have these emancipators who wish to make you the equals of men. They are degrading you. A fine avocation for you to be the equal of a lawyer or chemist to you." The recipient of his epigram was one of some of your mystery and your charm. "But all is not yet lost; men still fight for you, commit suicide for you, ruin themselves for you, although they have ceased to give up their seats in the omnibuses. The making of you is the communication did not know whether he ought to be pleased or not.—Westminster Gazette.

Priceless Beecher Relics Lost.

Priceless manuscripts and relics written and collected by Henry Ward Beecher, including many sermons in his own handwriting, were consumed by a fire that destroyed the Sunday school building adjoining the historic Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, where the famous pulpit orator was pastor for many years. The old church edifice itself, erected in 1849, narrowly escaped destruction. In these efforts to save the main edifice, the firemen had to break ten memorial stained glass windows.

How Calgary Got Its Name.

A controversy has arisen as to how Calgary obtained its name. For years it has been accepted that Col. MacLeod, commanding the R.N.W.M.P. detachment at this place, named it so in 1876, after his old home on the Isle of Mull, Scotland. Now, however, comes a claim from Scott Calder, Thurso, that a family of Scots emigrated to Canada and eventually came to what is now Alberta, naming their farm, Calgary, after the place they left in Scotland.

The Luxury Tax.

It is not thought likely that there will be any important changes made in the Luxury Tax regulations, although there may be some minor alterations. Lately the regulations have been receiving close study on the part of departmental experts, and the system of collection adopted, it is said, is justified by the results obtained. The luxury tax is now yielding roughly $750,000 a month.

Will Examine State Bank of N. Dakota

Investigation By Newly Elected Officials Is Urged.

Vessels to Be Scrapped.

Two submarines, purchased in the United States at the outbreak of war and used for a time on the Pacific Coast and the former Canadian coast, are to be scrapped. The vessels, which were recently sold by tender at Ottawa. They were purchased by New Brunswick Rolling Mills, which, taken at $200 a vessel will bring Alberta's farmers the sum of $165,944.00. This means that the bumper yield of 1915 will be increased nearly threefold in monetary value, assuming that approximately the present price of wheat holds.

The Medicine Pipe.

To Secure U.S. Peace With Germany.

He announced his intention of introducing his peace resolution as soon as Congress convenes, but whether he will press action during the short session depends on the views of the majority of his Republican colleagues and President-elect Harding.

The Nominations

At last there appears to be some interest in town council; this year there will be a contest. On Monday last, after attempts had been made to secure citizens to accept nomination to fill the vacancies on the council caused by the expiration of the terms of Messrs. Morrison, Hynes, Calder and Gilmore, these gentlemen were prevailed upon, much against their will to again stand for election. Dr. Hynes was nominated for the position of Mayor, and was returned by acclamation. The nominations of Messrs. Gilmore, Morrison and Calder, for council, were also put in. Just before the closing of the nominations, the names of Messrs. D. Cameron, P. Parsons and Perry Pratt, were put in, thus making a field of six for three vacancies.

It is well known to the citizens that Calder, Morrison, and Gilmore wished to retire this year, and it was only at the last minute, when it looked as if there would be no nominations, they consented to stand. In the case of Andrew Gilmore, he has ever since his election to parliament, tried to get relieved of his municipal duties, but it was felt by the other members that he would be of considerable assistance to the town through his connection with the government, and on more than one occasion this has proved true. He therefore remained on the council.

When the old council, composed of Messrs. McLeod, Morrison, Gilmore, Calder and other business men was prevailed upon to give their services to the town, it was at the instigation of the Bank. The town had been allowed to get very badly in the hole, and the manager of the bank financing the town intimated that if there was not a change, no money would be forthcoming. There was an overdraft of over $20,000, and it was going up all the time. As a matter of fact, Lacombe was on the verge of bankruptcy. These old councillors have during their term of office cut down every possible expense, until at the present time the bank overdraft has been wiped out, the debenture indebtedness has been greatly reduced, and Lacombe is looked upon in financial circles as one of the very few solid towns in the Province. This happy state of affairs is directly due to the most conservative administration of Messrs. McLeod, Morrison, Calder, Gilmore, Hynes and other members of the old council, and if any of these men are willing to attend to the business of the town for another term, it does not seem to be in the interests of the town to keep them out of office.

Mayor Morrison, who is out of town, on learning of his nomination, asked that his name be withdrawn.

Parliament and Legislature

The task of framing a constitution for the Dominion of Canada was undertaken just at the time when the United States was engaged in a life and death struggle between the States of the North and the Southern Confederacy. The war of secession arose out of the issue of States' rights, individual States claiming and asserting their right to the exercise of certain autonomous rights and powers and charging interference and usurpation of those rights and powers by the Federal authority at Washington.

With the grim results of such a dispute over States' rights before them, the fathers of the Canadian Confederation deliberately framed a constitution with the underlying idea of creating a strong and powerful Federal authority, rather than the development of strong Provinces. Consequently, the constitution of Canada is based on the reverse principle to that which was recognized in framing the constitution of the United States.

By the constitution of the big American republic, all powers not expressly reserved to the Federal Government belong to and are exercised by the respective States; in Canada, on the other hand, all powers not expressly conferred upon the Provinces are reserved to the Federal Government. This marked difference in the underlying principle of the constitution of the two countries frequently leads to misunderstanding of the powers and functions of Provincial Governments on the part of new settlers in this country from across the border. As a result, requests and demands are made upon Provincial Governments which it is not within their powers and jurisdiction to grant.

It is manifestly impossible in a brief article to attempt even a bare enumeration of the exclusive powers conferred by the British North America upon the Dominion Parliament, on the one hand, and Provincial Legislatures on the other hand. Suffice it to say that matters of a national character, and those having to do with other countries, as well as those which are of an interprovincial nature, are reserved exclusively to Parliament. These include trade and commerce, navigation and shipping, both sea coast and inland fisheries, postal services, military, naval and all matters connected with national defence, the criminal law, weights and measures, banks, banking, currency and coinage, etc., etc. The Dominion Parliament has power to raise its revenues in practically any and every way it chooses, and to levy taxation on all the people, both direct and indirect.

Provincial Legislatures, on the other hand, are restricted to the raising of money by direct taxation within the Province, the imposition of license fees, by borrowing on the sole credit of the Province, and through the management of such natural resources or local works and undertakings which they may possess. In legislation, the Provinces have jurisdiction over municipal institutions, incorporation of companies with Provincial objects, property and civil rights, the administration of justice, and generally all matters of a merely local or private nature in the Province.

In regard to education, the Provinces have control, subject, however, to certain restrictions, and in the event of a Province not having respect for these limitations on its authority, the Dominion Parliament has the right to interfere and pass remedial legislation correcting an established grievance. This limitation, however, has only to be met by the matter of separate schools and the rights and privileges which by law are enjoyed by Roman Catholic or Protestant minorities respectively. This restriction upon the powers of Provinces in the matter of education, and the dual control provided for in certain contingencies, has been the cause of more bitterness, friction and strife in Canada, and has been responsible for retarded development and prosperity to a greater extent, than any one other thing. Nevertheless, it must be remembered that unless the compromise, which this feature of our Constitution contains, had been arrived at, it would not have been possible to achieve Confederation in 1867 and probably not at any subsequent period.

The Dominion Parliament and the Provincial Legislatures both possess power to pass laws in relation to immigration, but no Act of a Province may override or be in conflict with a Dominion Act. Another matter over which legislative and legal differences of opinion have arisen between the Dominion and the Provinces is as to ownership and control of natural resources within a Province. A brief history of this question will constitute the basis of our next article.

A Great Pigeon Farm

100,000 Birds in Los Angeles Nearly All Snow White.

What is claimed to be the largest pigeon farm in the world is located at Los Angeles, California. By actual count there are cotes for more than 100,000 of the birds, and every nest is occupied, with numbers of the birds roosting on outbuildings and in temporary nesting places. This gives the unique farm a population of considerably more than the one hundred thousand feathered inhabitants claimed for it.

The birds eat two tons of wheat each day, with large quantities of green stuff and other foods, of which a regular account is not kept, as it is obtained from surrounding farms in exchange for the fertilizer from the pigeon ranch. When the pigeons are disturbed at their eating, they rise from the ground in huge white clouds spotted here and there with patches of blue. For a number of years, however, the colored birds have been gradually weeded out until nearly all are snow white.

The product of the farm, squabs, young birds and adults, goes entirely to the large hotels of Los Angeles and the surrounding resorts.

North Dakota Banks Close Down

Fifteen Banks Have Now Shut Down. Due to Depleted Resources.

Bismarck, N.D.—Three more North Dakota banks closed their doors today due to depleted resources, bringing the total of such closures reported here for the past 84 days to 15. Those shutting down today were the State Bank of Adrian, the State Bank of Donnybrook, and the State Bank of Glenburn, all in Renville county.

Earlier in the day it was announced that the State Bank of Mohall did not open for business today. It was the tenth bank closed.

The State Bank examiner, C. E. Loftus, announced that no receivers are being named for the closed banks, but an officer of each bank has been named a special deputy examiner to have charge of the institution. Loftus said he expected many of the banks would reopen when the financial stringency was past.

Officials of the Bank of North Dakota arranged today to meet with a committee of nine bankers, appointed at a conference yesterday of bankers and county officials held in Mandan. Bankers expect to give the Bank of North Dakota assurance that county officials will not make heavy demands on the State bank for funds when the law permitting the withdrawal of public funds from the bank becomes effective on December 21.

Must Use Western Coal

Mining Engineer Says Dependence on U.S. Would Be Dangerous.

"The utilization of western coal in Ontario" was the subject of a timely address delivered by James McEvoy, a well-known mining engineer and geologist, before the Mining and Metallurgical Club of the University of Toronto.

Mr. McEvoy began by declaring that in the event of serious labor trouble in the American coal fields, or of strained international relations between the United States and Canada, Canadian industry would inevitably suffer from an inadequate supply of coal unless some provision for exportation of western coal were made by governmental authorities. Should such an emergency occur at the present time, the effects in Ontario, from an industrial standpoint, would be appalling, he said.

Big Increase in Trade.

An increase of $31,917,125 is shown in the figures for the grand total of Canadian trade for October, 1920, as compared with the same month in 1919. The increase for the seven months of the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1920, as compared with the same period last year is $25,147,150. In the first seven months of this fiscal year the total value of the Canadian trade is $1,511,795,539, as against 1,359,648,374 for the first seven months in 1919.

Message from King George

Read at Service in New York in Memory of Landing of Pilgrims. A message of greeting from King George, and an address by General Robert, George, Nivelle, French war hero, featured commemorative services held in Carnegie Hall by the American Mayflower Council to mark the Pilgrims' centenary. The King's message, which was read by Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador, said: "I join you gladly in honoring the men of the Mayflower, whose memory is one of the abiding glories of America."

THE TREASURE OF GOOD HEALTH

Easily Maintained Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

There is not a town or corner in Canada, in the cities, the towns, the villages, on the farm and in the mines and lumber camps, where Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have not been used, and from one end of the country to the other the light of health and happiness shines brightly.

You only need to ask your neighbors, and they can tell you of some rheumatic or nerve-shattered man, or of some woman who, once a healthy and strong, is now a feeble and aged creature, and who, by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, has regained her former health and strength.

The wonderful success of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is due to the fact that they go right to the root of the disease in the blood, and by making the vital fluid rich and red strengthen the organs and every part of the body, driving out disease and pain, and making weak, despondent people bright, active and strong.

John, one of the best known and most highly esteemed men in Lunenburg county, N.S., says: "I am a Provincial Land Surveyor, and am exposed for the greater part of the year to very hard work travelling through the forests by day and camping out by night, and I find the only thing that will keep me up to the mark is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When I leave home for a trip in the woods I am as interested in having my supply of pills as provisions, and on such excursions I take them regularly. The result is I am always fit. I never take cold, and can digest all kinds of food such as we have to put up with, having proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as tonic and health builder, I am never without them, and I lose no opportunity in recommending them to the people whom I meet."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be kept in every home, and their occasional use will keep the blood pure and sweeten off illness. You can get this Christ-impoverished himself (Phil. 2:6-8) to purchase the one pearl of great price by his own precious blood (1 Pet. 1:18, 19; Eph. 5:25). Salvation is without money and without price.

1,000 Miles of Forest in an Annus.

The news—United States and Canada each have 2,500,000 tons of newspaper annually. Stated in this way it probably conveys little information to you respecting the effect upon our forests. You will better appreciate the situation when I say that it represents the defoliation of the mature trees on an area of 1,000 square miles of forest land each and every year. This will give you an idea of the enormous amounts that newspaper manufacturing is making upon the forests of North America. James White in address to the Vancouver Rotary Club.

Potatoes Versus Oats.

One of the directors of the United Farmers of Alberta is just now trying to figure out the comparative value of potatoes and oats. He is a resident of the Grande Prairie country and he relates that on the train he had to pay the value of two bushels of oats for one potato. Oats, he states, are selling in his district for 12c a bushel.

Arctic Circle Farming.

Large farming operations under the Arctic Circle in Alaska are planned by the department of agriculture which has five stations there and has developed new varieties of grains, berries, and fruits suitable to the climate. The enterprise should be a boon to the home market with freight charges which they now are—Springfield Republican.

Wilson To Devote Time To Writing.

Although it has been generally understood that President Woodrow Wilson, after he leaves the White House on March 4, will devote his time to writing, this fact has now become known with a degree of finality. It also became known that Mr. Wilson will make his home in Washington.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR DECEMBER 12.

WHAT THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN IS LIKE.

1. The Parable of the Lost Treasure (v. 44).

The common interpretation of this parable that Christ is the hidden treasure for which the sinner must give up everything in order to buy salvation is false, for the following reasons:

1. Christ is not hidden in a field, but has been lifted up and made a spectacle of the world.

2. Nobody has ever been obliged to buy the world in order to get Christ.

3. Salvation cannot be purchased, for it is God's free and gracious gift.

4. No sinner is ever held out to a man to convert his religion after he has obtained it.

In order to find ground that is safe and that we may appreciate its beauty and savor its richness, let us turn the parable into its component parts:

1. The field. This is the world (v. 38).

2. The treasure. In Psalm 135:4 we are told that Israel, the chosen people, is His treasure. The same truth is set forth in different places and ways (Deut. 7:8-9; 14:2; 26:18; 32:8).

3. The kingdom of heaven as its true relation and bearing is now hidden. Christ was primarily sent to the Jews; it was for their sake, the hidden treasure, that He brought the field to the world.

4. The purchased price. This was the precious blood of Jesus Christ, God's beloved Son, which is worth infinitely more than silver and gold and the treasures of earth (1 Pet. 1:13, 19; Isa. 53).

5. The Parable of the Merchantman Seeking Pearls (v. 45, 46).

The view that this merchantman represents the sinner seeking salvation is contrary to the whole teaching of Scripture. This would make the sinner to be seeking for Christ, while Christ is as indifferent as a West-pearl.

The whole burden of revelation is that man, since the fall of Adam in the garden of Eden, has been hid away from God, and that the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are all actively engaged in seeking for lost men.

1. The merchantman. He is without question Christ. He is actively engaged in the search for pearls. In this search he discovers one pearl of great price.

2. The purchasing price. The merchantman sold all—impoverished himself in order to buy the pearl. Christ impoverished Himself (Phil. 2:6-8) to purchase the one pearl of great price by His own precious blood (1 Pet. 1:18, 19; Eph. 5:25). Salvation is without money and without price.

3. The pearl of great price. This is the church. Christ, the merchantman, will find other pearls of great value, but the pearl of great price that all others will be the church which He has purchased with His own blood.

This truth is in harmony with the general teaching of Scripture, which sets forth the different bodies of the redeemed.

11. The Parable of the Dragnet (v. 47, 48).

This parable gives us a picture of the consummation of the kingdom. Note the parts of the parable:

1. The sea. This word when used in a figurative sense denotes peoples or multitudes (Dan. 7:3; Rev. 17:15). This means, then, that out of this world shall be gathered a multitude of people, good and bad.

2. The dragnet. The word "net" is properly translated dragnet. The dragnet cast into the sea, then, means the preaching of the Gospel in this age.

3. The dragnet drawn to the shore when full. This means that when God's purpose is made full regarding the preaching of the Gospel in this age, judgment will be taken of the results.

4. Assortment made by the angels. In the day of this accounting the angels will be the agents which shall separate the saved from the unsaved.

5. The value of the principal field grains in 1920 grown in Canada is estimated at more than $900,000,000.

Plan Phone Tests.

Wireless telephone experimental stations will be established at Calgary and Edmonton within the next year.

It has been estimated that strawberries are 20 per cent. safer than sailing vessels.

The Slump in Trade

President of British Board of Trade Says Prices Must Drop But Trade Will Pick Up.

Sir Robert Horne, president of the British Board of Trade, speaking at Manchester, said that he did not believe that the present slump in trade would be of long duration, but prices must come down. The proportion of goods which the dominions received from Great Britain, said Sir Robert, was less now than before the war.

The United States had got into the colonial markets. Great Britain, the Minister maintained, should do everything to recover the fullest measure of its trade with the great dominions. It was also no longer any good to say that "We won" trade with Russia because of the character of her government.

Great Britain must trade there sooner or later, and it was no good waiting, claimed Sir Robert.

Pretty Girls in Ads

Washing Machine Ads Always Ram By Pretty Girls in Fetching Attire.

Many women are wondering why advertisers seek so closely to the idea of using pretty girls in advertising copy. Do they go on the theory that a pretty girl would immediately attract the attention of the housewife?

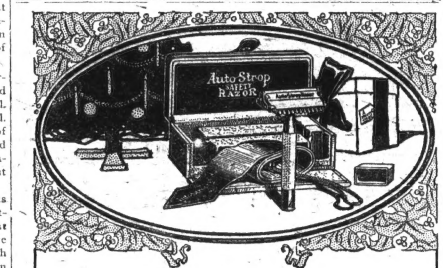

If so, they are making a bad guess, for it is invariably the rule that where the figure of a girl or a pretty face is used, it is looked up with a product having no connection with the picture.

If we are to believe some of the advertising we read, washing machines are always run by pretty girls in fetching attire; that patent garbage cans are always handled by slim waisted girls; that the cooking and the dish-washing is always done by a girl with fluffy ruffles. Isn't it time that a new angle was attached to advertising carrying pictures?

From the Diary of A Hudson's Bay Clerk in the Seventies

PASSING THE SPRING OUT

By G. G. M. E. S. (Little Clerk)

(Copyrighted)

My last article ended with the death of Awen-di-go, that notorious Boheviak amongst train dogs. The "Pas" itself has now become well-known as the centre of one of the biggest muskrat swamps in the west, and rats mean nothing, but for fine fur such as martens, fisher, lynx and bear, the bulk of these were secured at the Mountain (Passua Hills) and here two bands of Indians divided the country into hunting grounds. One of these was headed by Osoow-usk, who was on friendly terms with the Company (note that when Company's is written it always means the Hudson's Bay Co.) and most of whose followers were Christianized. The other band had for a leader Ki-say-the-nish, and they were all still Pagans, but might hunters. Before the Lord, like Nimrod of old. They were on bad terms with the Company at that time and had a resident free-trader living with them named Daniel, from Red River.

I tackled the Chief late one night, after our usual chess game, to let me pass the spring and the Mountain, and held forth as a bait the prospect of reconciliation with Ki-say-the-nish. Finally I obtained his consent, but he insisted that I take an old and experienced voyager, with me in whom he placed great confidence, but whom I did not care for. Pierre Marcelle, a French half-breed.

The plan was that we were to leave the "Pas" about the 20th of March with two trains of dogs and part of the outfit, the dogs to continue hauling as long as sleighing was good. Then we were to get two birch-bark canoes built up there and return to the "Pas" about the end of May when the fur season ended. In the meantime I had to work doubly hard for those distant accounts. My, but the time dragged, but at last the day for departure came and we made a start, camping at Birch River that night. Next day we reached Osoow-usk camp in good time. The old man was benevolent and kind and felt very flattered to have a Company's clerk camped beside him. He styled me Noo-si-im (or Grandson), and I called him Moo-choon (Grandfather).

We had a leather tepee made of smoked caribou skins from Lac du Brochet. Fresh spruce brush was constantly put down in the tent for a carpet. Our trading goods were all piled at the back, but sledges had to be stowed higher than Haman, for train dogs are omnivorous as well as carnivorous. Next day I sent Pierre and an Indian boy back for two more loads and I busied myself calling at the various camps, trading where possible and hunting between times. Most of the Ki-say-the-nish band were still far out on their wintering grounds and would only come in on the last ice, so I did not intend tackling them until open water. The first geese were just arriving from the south, and everyone was looking for a taste of fresh game after the eternal fish diet, when I met with a nasty accident. I took my dogs and old

Moo-choon for company and visited a camp some few miles away. The winter trail cut straight across country, but ice on the rivers was now bad and in fact gone out in some cases, and one had to be careful and make detours when necessary. At one of these places the dogs bolted down the winter trail in spite of my yelling "cha, cha," at the top of my voice. Fortunately I had a long tail trailing of buffalo raw hide, ground. One of these was headed by Osoow-usk, who was on friendly terms with the Company (note that when Company's is written it always means the Hudson's Bay Co.) and most of whose followers were Christianized. The other band had for a leader Ki-say-the-nish, and they were all still Pagans, but might hunters. Before the Lord, like Nimrod of old. They were on bad terms with the Company at that time and had a resident free-trader living with them named Daniel, from Red River.

Coal Shortage

Strength of Our Canadian Banking System

Stability Is Shown In Time Of Stress And Strain

During the past few days no less than fifteen banks have been closed in the adjoining state of North Dakota.

The suspension of these institutions has created in the districts they served an amount of trouble and loss, which business men will readily appreciate.

It may be pointed out that if the United States had the Canadian system of banking, which is the British system, developed to its greatest perfection in Scotland, these failures would not have occurred. Manitoba is not as rich a territory as North Dakota. It was settled at a later time, it is supposed to have its rural districts less accumulated wealth, but in Manitoba there have been no bank failures, and there will not be any. All the institutions in this area are functioning as usual.

The United States is the richest nation in the world and it has the greatest gold reserve of any nation in the world. In spite of these facts all these banks are closed.

All human institutions have their imperfections and the Canadian banking system, without doubt, has its imperfections. At the present time the good point of the system is in the limelight in a remarkable way. If some of the managers of branch lines in the west would tell what they know at the present time, they would confirm what is written here in an astonishing way.

At the present moment at many western branches deposits are very much less than it was anticipated they would be at this time, and loans are very much higher. The difference between the real position and the position which was expected amounts to hundreds of thousands of dollars, even in smaller offices.

If these offices were dependent banks, they would be compelled to close, just as the offices in North Dakota have had to close.

Under the conditions which exist in Canadian banking, funds pour in from offices in remote parts of the country, all demands are met, requirements are supplied, funds are furnished, and the great economic machine is kept running smoothly.

In the time of stress and strain there is obvious strength and stability in a great series of offices, covering a continent, all linked up in one management, with resources available to any office in time of need.

Gas the Gopher

Value of Chlorine For Destruction of Pests Has Been Proven

Ottawa.—The value of chlorine gas for the destruction of gophers is emphasized in a brief article which appears in the Agricultural Gazette, published by the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

The article describes a number of experiments which were conducted to ascertain the effect of the gas on gophers, resulting in the conclusions that these animals can be effectively destroyed by means of chlorine, that the destruction can be accomplished in a short time, and that it is economical.

The process of destruction consists in liberating chlorine into the gopher holes. The entomological branch of the Agricultural Department is at present taking steps to have special cylinders constructed for containing chlorine gas to use in this work.

Date Not Yet Set For Conference

Ottawa.—The Prime Minister has not as yet fixed a date for the conference between the Dominion Government and a delegation representing the western provinces, with reference to the control of the natural resources of the west. A request has been received at the Prime Minister's office that a date be set for such a conference and the matter is now under consideration. It is understood that all three prairie provinces will be represented on the delegation which will come east to interview the Government.

Lewis Island Votes Dry

London.—The island of Lewis, in the Scottish prohibition poll, has voted dry.

Unemployment Among Veterans Increasing

Situation Is Becoming Very Serious According to G.W.V.A.

Ottawa.—Telegraphic reports received by the Dominion headquarters of the G.W.V.A. indicate that unemployment among returned men is becoming serious. The worst reports come from the cities of Toronto and Montreal. In the industrial centres of the Maritime Provinces, apparently the situation is not so bad.

From Regina a report is to hand that married men are on the verge of starvation, and that the association funds are low.

Education reports that single men, following harvesting and threshing, are drifting in from all parts of Alberta, looking for employment.

Vancouver reports the unemployment situation as very serious, as does Toronto.

In Winnipeg, according to G.W.V.A. advisers, men with minor disabilities especially are finding great difficulty in securing work, as they are not able to do heavy manual labor.

From Montreal comes word that the situation although bad now, is going to be much worse, as a number of large companies are being forced to lay off men.

The situation is one which has already been taken up at a conference between G.W.V.A. officials and the Prime Minister when, it is understood, assurance was given that everything possible would be done by the Government.

After Linen Trade

Report Says Japan Is Planning to Enter Trade on Wide Scale

Ottawa.—That Japan is planning to enter the world's linen trade, was the statement of S. Mori, of the Japanese Flax Spinning Company, Ltd., of Tokio, Japan, who is here on his way home, after having made a world-wide survey of the flax growing industries which he represents. The company which he represents, he said, has erected large spinning mills in Japan and is experimenting in Manchuria. If these sources of supply are not sufficient they will likely come to Canada to purchase raw material, he said.

Disorders in China

Mutinous Chinese Troops Are Still at Work in I-Chang

Shanghai.—British and United States flags are hurrying to I-Chang, a busy port in the province of Hu-Peh, where mutinous Chinese troops have looted and burned a portion of the city.

Looting and burning at I-Chang continues and property loss there is heavy, says a message relayed from Hangchow, from the agent of the Standard Oil Company at I-Chang. The lives of foreigners, however, are said not to be in any immediate danger. Chinese garrisons are said to be there.

Wealth of Ex-Kaiser

London.—In the House of Commons a question elicited the fact that 50,000,000 marks, proceeds of sales in Berlin, had been sent to the ex-Kaiser in Holland since January 1, 1919. Mr. Bonar Law said there was no reason to think the German Government would willingly delay the bringing of the ex-Kaiser, princes and other war criminals to trial.

A. E. Ames Believes That They Will Bring Better Prices Soon.

Toronto.—A. E. Ames, of A. E. Ames and Co., investment bankers, this city, in a letter to a company of which he is a director, advises against selling the company's block of 1943 and 1944 Victory Bonds at present. Mr. Ames states that this would mean an unnecessary sacrifice and adds: "Money is tight in Canada, and, of course, but in my judgment, the situation is fairly well in hand, and if you can carry your bond for a few months you should get better than present prices for them."

Port of Fiume Blocked

Rome.—The Messagero says that the naval squadron at Fiume, which includes the dreadnaught, Dante Alighieri, was under order to leave Fiume when it was learned that D'Annunzio had blocked the port by sending the cruiser, Cortellana.

The tempo says it learns from Trieste that it is not impossible D'Annunzio may change his ideas and that he already has sent a confidential envoy to Rome to explain his viewpoint to the Government.

Dutch Cabinet Has Resigned

London.—The Dutch cabinet has resigned as a result of the second chamber of parliament rejecting the Government's proposal for high salaries for teachers, says a despatch to the Central News from The Hague.

Record of Crime in Ireland for Past Year

673 People Killed or Wounded in Ireland up to Nov. 27.

London.—Persons to the number of 673 have been killed or wounded in Ireland up to November 27 of the present year by anti-Government elements, according to a statement issued by the Home Office. The deaths do not include 20 persons killed in London and 62 in Belfast during the summer rioting, nor 15 rascals killed in the Kilmainham ambuscade.

The statement says that 151 policemen have been killed and 250 wounded, that 47 soldiers have met with death and 103 wounded. Civilians to the number of 41 have been killed and 10 wounded.

Sixty-seven court houses and 328 police barracks have been destroyed and of the latter 161 damaged. There have been 830 raids on mails and 45 raids on post offices, stations and light houses. In addition to these there has been 2961 raids made for arms.

Another statement says the arrests in Ireland averaged considerably over 100 weekly. During the last three weeks of November, 406 persons were taken into custody for political offences, including 169 during the last week of the month.

Earl Beatty On Sea Power

Edinburgh.—"Sea power is essentially a power for peace. It is fallacy to regard navalism as a sea counterpart of militarism, or as a reflex to the British Navy as a baneful influence."

This pronouncement was made by Earl Beatty when he received the degree of Doctor of Laws at Edinburgh University recently. Earl Beatty is the retiring Lord Rector. The degree was conferred as a symbol of the intense appreciation of his services to the nation.

Alberta Auto License

Edmonton, Alta.—The automobile licensing department of the province is another of the governmental branches which has been setting up old records and knocking them down in the year now drawing to an end.

The issue of number plates for gas vehicles of this nature exceeds by more than four thousand the record of 1919. Provincial Deputy Secretary E. Trowbridge announces that the total number of automobile licenses sold this year is 38,050 as compared with 34,000 last year.

Advised to Hold Victory Bonds

A. E. Ames Believes That They Will Bring Better Prices Soon.

Toronto.—A. E. Ames, of A. E. Ames and Co., investment bankers, this city, in a letter to a company of which he is a director, advises against selling the company's block of 1943 and 1944 Victory Bonds at present. Mr. Ames states that this would mean an unnecessary sacrifice and adds: "Money is tight in Canada, and, of course, but in my judgment, the situation is fairly well in hand, and if you can carry your bond for a few months you should get better than present prices for them."

Sinn Fein Moderates Appear to be Ready For Peace Proposals

May Buy Out Mackenzie Interests

Toronto to Purchase Holdings at $32,734,000 If City Taxpayers Endorse Deal.

Toronto.—The city of Toronto and the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission are to buy out the Mackenzie interests at $32,734,000 if the taxpayers of Toronto endorse the deal at the municipal elections on January 1.

The Legislature is to validate the deal at the next session, according to the understanding when the negotiations were under way.

The properties and businesses involved in the deal are as follows: Toronto Power Company, Electrical Development Company, Toronto Electric Light Company, York Radial Railway and Schomberg and Aurora Electric Railway. It is what is known locally as a "clean up."

The Toronto Railway Company does not come into the deal because the Toronto Railways is to be taken over by the city at the expiration of the company's franchise, next September. The Toronto Railway Company, however, had a "say" in the big deal which was closed. It is one of the largest concerns in the Mackenzie interests.

Mr. Sweetman is a wealthy landowner of moderate size and it is believed here he will be supported by a large number of Sinn Feiners representing moderate opinion. It is feared, however, that the arrests of Arthur Griffith, the founder of the Sinn Fein, and Prof. MacNeill, which are believed to have been made without the approval of governing authorities in London, and the detention of these men without any charge having been made against them may handicap the peace efforts.

Sinn Fein Machinations

Documents Disclose Complete List of Irish Self-Determination League Members.

London.—The keen search by Scotland Yard operatives to uncover Sinn Fein machinations are said to be having important results. It is declared that many documents have been discovered which disclose the complete list of the members of the Irish Self-Determination League, and also clues as to the whereabouts of the women desired by the authorities.

Premier Lloyd George stated in the House of Commons that documents found in the possession of Eamon DeValera, when he was arrested in May, 1918, would be included in those which the Government was about to make public. These documents asserted the Premier, implicated the Irish Republican Army in the German conspiracy.

Trade Agreement With Russia Not Yet Signed

Negotiations Proceeding Satisfactorily and May Soon be Concluded.

London.—The Moscow announcement that the signed trade agreement between Great Britain and Russia, met with denial from British officials who had been a party to the recent negotiations with the comment: "The negotiations are proceeding satisfactorily, and verging towards a conclusion. There is every probability that the agreement will be signed within a few days."

Persons in connection with the Government's conversations on the subject say it is likely that their insistence that the Soviet Government assume all debts of the old regime will be waived, provided obligations of purely commercial character are acknowledged.

The reopening of trade, it is understood, will be the first concern of the British conferees, and possibly some contested points will be left over for clearing up in the future.

Smuggling Liquor by Plane

Report Claiming That Airplanes Are Used By Alleged Crime Trust.

Winnipeg.—Airplanes are being used constantly by members of the alleged crime trust, it is claimed, to smuggle liquor and other goods across the border. The Tribune declares.

The Tribune story continues: "The police and customs department officials, campaign against the smugglers is proceeding with great energy. Within the last two months, 44 automobiles have been seized while actively engaged in the running of liquor and smuggling of other goods."

"The officials are now in possession of hard evidence proving a most thorough and costly organization on the part of the law breakers, even to the extent that American smugglers have been and are guaranteed by certain liquor dealers and bootleggers against interference by Canadian law, so that when smugglers are seized, the liquor is promptly paid for."

No Date Set For Parliament Opening

Ottawa.—The Government has not yet decided on the date for the opening of Parliament, Premier Meighen told the Canadian Press. He added that the date of the opening would depend to a great extent on the progress made by the tariff commission now sitting.

Official Referendum Returns

Ottawa.—The official count of the recent liquor plebiscites in Manitoba, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Nova Scotia is expected to be complete, and the results officially announced by the middle of next month.

D'Annunzio Declares War On Italy

London.—Giacinto D'Annunzio, in command of the insurgents at Fiume, has declared war on Italy, according to a Milan dispatch to the London Times. The state of war is declared from Dec. 3.

Recommend Dreadnaughts

London.—It is understood that the British Admiralty estimates recommend building one or more post war dreadnaughts, but the belief is pretty general that the proposition is viewed unfavorably by the cabinet.

Liberals Sustained in B.C.

Five Liberal and One Opposition Elected in Vancouver.

Vancouver, B.C.—With returns still incomplete the standing of the parties in the provincial elections is given as: Twenty-three Liberals, thirteen Conservatives, seven Independents, two Labor and one Socialist.

Three Liberals and one Conservative have been returned in Victoria, Premier Oliver heading the poll in the capital with 6,474, Canon Hinchcliffe, Conservative, with 5,294, ran second, Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, polled 4,887, and Clearbridge, Liberal, polled 4,305.

Of these six who are elected, the first five are Liberals, the sixth, Mr. Bowyer, being leader of the Opposition in the last legislature.

Manitoba Farmers Independent Party

Winnipeg.—Wm. Robson, leader of the Farmers' Party in the Provincial Legislature in a statement to the Tribune, claims that he was "entirely misquoted" on November 22, when he was reported as having said that he and his party had agreed to support the Norris Government for one year.

The Farmers' Party in the Legislature would continue its absolute independence," he said.

London Bank Robbery

London, Ont.—London experienced its first bank robbery when armed and masked bandits held up the South London branch of the Merchants Bank. The thieves secured $700 and made their escape in a high-powered motor car.

The manager and teller were backed against the wall. The police started in pursuit immediately after being notified of the robbery.

Grand Sweepstake for Wheat

Western Canada Makes Notable Showing at Big International Exhibition.

Chicago.—At the International Show in the hay and grain class, J. C. Mitchell, of Dalnida, Sask., carried off the grand sweepstakes for wheat of all kinds against more than 200 competitors.

This is the second year in succession that Mr. Mitchell has carried off this prize.

There were 25 prizes offered in the class for hard spring wheat, and 20 of them came to Western Canada, Saskatchewan getting a goodly number of placings besides the first. The highest of these, fifth, by Seager Wheeler, of Rosetown. J. C. Mitchell, of Lloydminster, got fourth in six rows barley in a class of 58 competitors.

Sweepstakes for oats, J. B. Lucas, of Cayley, taking the five regions into which the continent of America is divided. There were 240 competitors in oats, so that this sweepstake was a notable victory.

In addition Alberta won a number of placings in hard spring wheat.

Rumanian Roads Leased to Britishers

London.—Negotiations have been perfected for the lease of the Rumanian State Railways to a British syndicate for 25 years, according to dispatches from Bucharest. The syndicate will supplement the present rolling stock with British material, the dispatches add.

Alberta Coal Tests

Edmonton.—Alberta coal tests covering a wide range of scientific research will be taken up under the joint auspices of the National Research Council and the University next year.
